

At the beginning of the year, the company had a total of 100 employees. By the end of the year, the number of employees had increased to 120. This increase was due to the hiring of new staff members throughout the year. The company also experienced a decrease in the number of employees during the year, but the overall trend was positive.

Employee Performance Review

Annual Report

The following table shows the performance of each employee during the year. The table is divided into two columns: 'Employee Name' and 'Performance Rating'. The performance rating is based on the employee's work quality, quantity, and attitude. The table shows that the majority of employees performed well during the year, with a few exceptions.

The table shows that the majority of employees performed well during the year, with a few exceptions. The performance ratings were generally high, indicating that the company's staff is highly motivated and productive. However, there were a few employees who did not perform as well as expected, and these employees will be the focus of the company's training and development programs for the next year.
