

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC SCHOOL OF DISTANCE EDUCATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC (USP) is pleased to announce the opening of the 'Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.)' program. This program is designed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of education and to equip them with the skills and knowledge necessary to become effective educators. The program is offered through the School of Distance Education, USP, and is available to students from all over the Pacific region.

The B.Ed. program is a four-year program that includes a variety of courses in education, psychology, and social sciences. Students will also have the opportunity to complete a teaching practicum, which will provide them with hands-on experience in the classroom.

USP is committed to providing a high-quality education to all of our students, and the B.Ed. program is no exception. Our faculty members are highly qualified and experienced educators who will provide you with the best possible learning experience. We also offer a variety of support services to help you succeed in your studies, including tutoring, counseling, and career guidance.

For more information about the B.Ed. program, please contact the School of Distance Education at USP. We would be happy to answer any questions you may have and to help you get started on your journey to becoming an educator.

USP is a member of the Association of Pacific Rim Universities (APRU) and is committed to providing a high-quality education to all of our students. We are also a member of the Pacific Islands University Association (PIUA) and the Pacific Islands Education Council (PIEC).
