Computer System Security Policy Statement

This document sets out the policy for the protection of information held on computer systems. It is intended to guide the development of security measures and to provide a basis for the assessment of risk to the organization.

The policy is based on the principle of 'least privilege', which means that users should only have access to the information and systems that they need to do their job. It also covers the protection of information from unauthorized disclosure, loss, or destruction.

This policy applies to all computer systems used by the organization, including desktop computers, laptops, servers, and mobile devices. It also applies to all users, whether they are employees, contractors, or customers.

For more information, please see the Computer System Security Policy Statement, which is available on the organization's intranet. If you have any questions, please contact the Information Security Team.
